MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE

The Missouri Valley Conference continues to lead by example as one of college athletics' most progressive conferences. Two years shy of its centennial celebration, the Missouri Valley Conference emphasizes the importance of the student-athlete and is aggressive in its approach to provide opportunities for its member institutions.

Since its inception in 1907, the Missouri Valley Conference has been regarded as a leader by its peers among today's collegiate athletic conferences.

Based in St. Louis since 1985, the league is assertive in its approach to hosting NCAA basketball championship events, operating a revenue-producing in-house television network, bidding out the right to play host to sport championships and landing title sponsorships for those events.

During the tenure of Doug Elgin, the Valley's ninth commissioner, the league has hosted the 1993, 1998, and 1999 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Midwest Regionals, the 2001 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Final Four, the 2002 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball First/Second Rounds, and a 2004 NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Regional. In 2005 (April 2 and 4), the St. Louis Organizing Committee (SLOC), comprised of the Missouri Valley Conference, the St. Louis Sports Commission, the Convention & Visitor's Commission, and Saint Louis University, will host the jewel of the men's championship as the Men's Final Four — the city's first since 1978 — will be played at the Edward Jones Dome.

The SLOC was recently awarded two more NCAA events, giving St. Louis and the Missouri Valley Conference a total of four NCAA basketball events in a span of six years (2004 through 2009) — more than any other city. In July of 2003, the NCAA announced that the city's second Women's Final Four will come to the Gateway city in 2009, while in July of 2004, the NCAA confirmed that St. Louis and The Valley would host a men's basketball regional in 2007. Additionally, the Valley and Creighton will co-host a 2008 first and second round at the Qwest Center OMAHA. The Missouri Valley Conference and the city of St. Louis will have hosted eight NCAA basketball events in a 12-year span, including three Final Fours, by April of 2009 (that doesn't include the 2008 event in Omaha.)

And while the Missouri Valley Conference has been progressive in pursuing NCAA events, it has continued to be a national leader in the athletic arena. The oldest conference west of the Mississippi River, the Valley has had numerous successes in its storied history, which includes a myriad of accomplishments since the turn of the century.

Last year alone, the league had a combined seven postseason teams in men's and women's basketball, with four men's basketball teams reaching postseason play for just the 10th time in league history. In all, the Valley had an historic season, as Creighton's women's basketball team claimed the first national championship for the league since 1989 (Wichita State, baseball) as the Bluejays took the WNIT title. Two volleyball teams (UNI, SMS) represented the Valley in postseason play; three men's soccer teams (Creighton, SMU, Tulsa) claimed spots in the NCAA soccer championship, with Creighton one win shy of the College Cup; two softball teams (CU, SIU) reached the NCAA tournament for a second-straight year; while Wichita State's men's golf team also made the cut for the NCAA Men's Golf Championship for a second-straight season.

In addition, the Valley had NCAA team qualifiers in baseball, women's golf, women's tennis, women's soccer, and men's tennis; plus more than two dozen individual qualifiers in cross country, track & field, and swimming & diving.

The 2000-01 basketball season was highlighted by a Women's Final Four appearance by Southwest Missouri State, while in 2001-02, the league produced four Sweet 16 teams, including Southern Illinois (men's basketball), UNI (volleyball), Southern Methodist (men's soccer), and Drake (women's basketball). A College World Series appearance by the SMS baseball team highlighted the 2002-03 season; while Southern Illinois' men's basketball team was one win shy of a perfect 18-0 conference season in 2003-04, losing at UNI on the final day of the regular season.

The Valley has also been cutting edge in the area of its television network. Beginning in 1993-94, the Valley took its television network in-house and began to produce, syndicate and sell a televised package of regular-season and tournament events for distribution on local broadcast and national cable networks.

The Valley Television Network includes a package of more than 30 men's and women's basketball games and selected other tournament championship events that air on ESPN, ESPN2, Fox Sports Net, Fox College Sports, College Sports Television (CSTV), and on statewide cable systems and local broadcast stations throughout the Midwest.

Meanwhile, the league has been progressive in other areas, as it has taken its merchandise program in-house, while offering e-commerce solutions for league apparel and for tickets to the men's basketball championship.

Starting in 1995-96, the Conference broke new ground by allowing league members to bid for hosting rights to its volleyball, women's basketball, softball and baseball championships. By establishing uniform host criteria, the Conference is able to assist a host institution in a season-long promotional campaign and provide an avenue where hosts can acquire sponsors and achieve a profit for the event. The 2003-04 season was a landmark season for the conference as State Farm Insurance and the league came to terms on an agreement that would provide State Farm with title sponsorship of 17 of the league's 18 championships (ConAgra Foods retained the baseball tournament title sponsorship). The conference's progressive marketing and in-house television package has helped open doors to regional and national sponsors outside of the realm of title sponsorships, as the league's men's basketball tournament sponsorship revenues were at an all-time high in 2004.

The seeds for this vision were planted by eight administrators representing five institutions, who met at the Midland Hotel in Kansas City, Mo., on Jan. 12, 1907. The five schools which formed the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association were Washington University of St. Louis, and the state universities of Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska. Two months after the initial meeting, two more schools — Drake University and Iowa State College — were admitted.

In the fall of 1907, basketball became the first competitive sport. Today, the Missouri Valley Conference sponsors the following sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country and track (indoor and outdoor), men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

This season, the league will conduct its 94th outdoor track and field championship, its 87th tennis championship, its 51st baseball tournament, and its 67th golf championship for the men. Those programs, plus other current sponsored sports of cross country (46 years), indoor track (38), soccer (14) and swimming and diving (11), have helped solidify the Missouri Valley Conference as one of the most respected conferences nationally.

Athletic accomplishments on the men's athletics side include four national basketball championships, 17 trips to the NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four, and a 1989 national baseball championship. In 2001, Southwest Missouri State added to the Valley women's accomplishments, as the Lady Bears advanced to the Women's Basketball Final Four in St. Louis. Creighton (2004) claimed a national championship (WNIT) in women's basketball, while SMS also has a 1992 NCAA Women's Final Four appearance, and Creighton (2003) and Drake (1999) have made semifinal trips to the WNIT postseason tournament.

Indeed, the inclusion of women's programs under the Valley banner — the nation's second-oldest collegiate athletic conference — has provided a boost. The Gateway Collegiate Athletic Conference — which began in 1982 — merged with the Missouri Valley Conference and was unveiled as part of the new conference on July 1, 1992.

And while the inclusion of women's sports under a comprehensive athletic umbrella is a recent development in the league's storied 97-year history, over the years, Valley student-athletes and coaches have become household names during the league's illustrious history, both during their collegiate careers and, for some, professional careers.

In fact, the Valley began honoring that tradition in the summer of 1997, when the Conference began its athletics Hall of Fame. Hersey Hawkins of Bradley, Larry Bird of Indiana State, Wes Unseld of Louisville, Coach Henry Iba of Oklahoma State, Dave Stallworth of Wichita State, Ed Macauley of Saint Louis, and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati were members of the initial induction class. Some 30 former players, coaches and alumni dot the league's Hall of Fame.

Men's basketball, perhaps, has the league's most storied tradition with the likes of Hall of Famers Bird and Robertson, but the Valley has also produced national-caliber student-athletes in its other sponsored sports. In 2001, SMS' Jackie Stiles became the first Valley woman to earn the Honda Award, given to the nation's top female collegiate student-athlete. In the sport of track and field, Indiana State's Holli Hyche captured seven national sprint titles in the 1990s, and Southern Illinois' Darrin Plab won back-to-back NCAA outdoor high jump titles in 1991 and 1992. At the 2002 NCAA indoor meet, Illinois State's Christian Goy won the mile run, becoming the 17th male national champion in league history. In the fall of 1997, Creighton's Johnny Torres was named the collegiate male soccer player of the year for a second-straight year. While league member Wichita State has produced two national collegiate players of the year in baseball: Joe Carter (1981) and Darren Dreifort (1993).

From its early beginning to its current standing on the map of college athletics, The Valley will always continue to be proactive in its approach.

League members include Bradley University, Creighton University, Drake University, the University of Evansville, Illinois State University, Indiana State University, the University of Northern Iowa, Southern Illinois University, Southwest Missouri State University, and Wichita State University. Affiliate members include Drury University (women's soccer) and Eastern Illinois University, Southern Methodist University, the University of Tulsa, Vanderbilt University, and Western Kentucky University (men's soccer).

THE UNIVERSITY

ABOUT UNI

Building on a strong tradition of teacher education, the University of Northern Iowa has evolved into one of the finest comprehensive public universities in the country. UNI emphasizes excellence in undergraduate education and offers selected graduate programs at the master's, specialist's and doctoral levels.

UNI's heritage and philosophy place great value on providing a student-centered educational experience. The university offers a learning environment that is small enough to provide students with individualized attention, yet large enough to provide a variety of resources, including distinguished faculty. UNI's special combination of challenge and support is indeed a key ingredient of a "Students First" education.

Today, UNI offers more than 120 undergraduate majors. Outstanding academic programs, many of which are nationally-recognized for their excellence, have been established in the colleges of Business Administration, Education, Humanities and Fine Arts, Natural Sciences, and Social and Behavioral Sciences. In addition, UNI participates in the bachelor of liberal studies program offered by Iowa's Regent Universities and provides classes in centers around the state through the division of Continuing Education and Special Programs.

Recognized as the premier public undergraduate university in the state, UNI is experiencing an increasing demand for its high-quality programs. Enrollment at UNI was 13,400 students in the fall of 2003. Students come from every county in Iowa, and about 94 percent of UNI's undergraduate students are residents of Iowa upon enrollment.

The University of Northern Iowa was founded in 1876 as the Iowa State Normal School. It became Iowa State Teachers College in 1909. In 1961, the name was changed to State College of Iowa, and in 1967, the Iowa Legislature changed the status of the institution to that of a university under its present title.

ADMINISTRATION

DR. ROBERT KOOB, PRESIDENT

Dr. Robert Koob is the eighth president of the University of Northern Iowa. He began his tenure in August 1995, and he is the first UNI graduate to return to his alma mater as President. He has been distinguished at UNI for his efforts to promote and strengthen relationships between the University and the citizens of Iowa, and to fully integrate the use of cutting-edge technology campus-wide. These initiatives build on the University's strengths of providing a strong liberal arts curriculum, excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service.

As President, he has focused on implementing the University strategic plan, articulating core values and progress indicators, and setting goals for the University, which is continually cited as one of the nation's top public comprehensive universities. His efforts have also produced extraordinary campus and community growth, including the new Gallagher-Bludorn Performing Arts Center, the Freeburg Early Childhood Program, and two new facilities, which will begin construction soon -- the McLeod Center and the Human Performance Center.

He is involved in numerous local organizations, including Cedar Valley's Promise, Cedar Valley United Way, Opportunity Works, Cedar Valley Economic Development Corporation, and the Waterloo Development Corporation. He also serves on numerous Trustee Boards, as he is known for his instrumental collaborating skills, strategic planning expertise, and creative ability to deal constructively with constant change. Most recently, he was honored as the Cedar Valley Business Hall of Fame recipient in recognition of his visionary skillfulness, economic development plans, volunteerism, and for his talent to build cohesive working relationships between private and public sectors.

Dr. Koob is involved in numerous state and national organizations, including the Iowa Empowerment Board, National Educational Advisory Committee, and the Commission on International Education.

He is a native of Hawarden, Iowa, received his B.A. in education from UNI in 1962, and a doctorate in chemistry from the University of Kansas in 1967. He has 16 years of classroom teaching experience ranging from high school science courses through Ph.D. level courses in physical chemistry.

RICK HARTZELL, DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Now entering his sixth year as Director of Athletics at the University of Northern Iowa, Rick Hartzell has overseen unparalleled success and growth for the Panthers athletics program. He was named the university's fourth full-time director of athletics since joining the Division I ranks on August 9, 1999.

Take some time to talk to Hartzell, and his passion for UNI athletics -- and college athletics in general -- comes across loud and clear. His love for the Panthers should be no surprise, as he was a UNI student-athlete during the mid-70s, and was able to come back home in 1999 to lead his alma mater's athletic program into the 21st century. He also believes strongly in the "student" part of the term student-athlete, and understands the importance of shaping well-rounded individuals for a life after competitive athletics is over.

The list of individual and team athletic successes since Hartzell took over at UNI is long and distinguished. The football team has claimed two conference titles the past three seasons, and the men's basketball team won its first-ever Missouri Valley Conference championship in 2004, earning the school's second-ever NCAA tournament appearance. UNI volleyball has won six straight conference championships, and made three appearances in the NCAA tournament's Sweet 16 during that span. Panther wrestling crowned its first Division I national champion in 2000, and has placed as high as 11th in the national tournament. Track and field and cross country have claimed numerous conference titles, including the last five indoor men's crowns, and baseball made its first-ever NCAA tournament appearance in 2001, winning the rugged MVC title. In fact, no less than 10 sports have seen teams or individuals in postseason action since Hartzell came back to the Cedar Valley.

In addition, the Panthers have finished in the upper half of the Missouri Valley Conference's all-sports standings each year under Hartzell's direction, including a best-ever finish of second in the 2000-01 campaign. Prior to his arrival, UNI had finished in the upper half of the league all-sports standings just once. UNI has also consistently finished in the top 90 in the annual Director's Cup standings since Hartzell's arrival, a ranking that measures a school's success in various sports in NCAA championships during that athletic year. In 2003-04, UNI finished 82nd nationally, tops among schools in the Missouri Valley Conference.

The success on the field has been a direct result of Hartzell's hiring of quality head coaches during his tenure, many with Iowa and UNI ties. Mark Farley (football), Greg McDermott (men's basketball), Bobbi Petersen (volleyball), Brad Penrith (wrestling) and Rick Heller (baseball) are among the coaches that Hartzell has brought to UNI, and each of them has garnered conference or regional championships and NCAA postseason appearances.

Off the field, UNI student-athletes have shined academically as well. UNI's overall student-athlete graduation rate is among the leaders in the Missouri Valley Conference and Gateway Football Conference. UNI's overall student-athlete cumulative grade point average has risen dramatically, to better than 3.0 after the spring 2004 semester for more than 400 student-athletes. The Panthers had no less than 25 student-athletes that earned academic all-conference honors in 2003-04.

Hartzell has been a key figure involved in several facility upgrades, including the development of the McLeod Center, a new arena which will break ground this fall south of the UNI-Dome. When completed in 2006, it will house the men's and women's basketball programs, and volleyball and wrestling teams. In addition, Hartzell has overseen the effort to turn the UNI-Dome and future McLeod Center into an economic development site for the Cedar Valley, by garnering concerts and other special events to campus. Plans also are moving forward for a Human Performance Center that will house an athletics weight room, training rooms, team rooms, locker rooms and offices. The scope of the fundraising for UNI athletics has been widened under Hartzell's direction.

Another key effort spearheaded by Hartzell was UNI's radio and television agreements. Panther football and men's basketball has local television contracts for TV with Fox 28/40, and for radio with KXEL, each of which was renewed for multiple years in 2004. UNI women's basketball and volleyball is carried by KCNZ radio, making UNI one of the only schools in the Midwest to have a regular-season home for volleyball.

Prior to being named at UNI, Hartzell had served as director of athletics at Bucknell since 1988, directing a Division I program with 1-AA football consisting of 28 sports. Prior to his appointment at Bucknell, he was Director of Athletics and Chairman of Physical Education and Recreation at the University of Maryland-Baltimore County from 1985-88, directing a 19-sport program which moved from Division II to Division I during his tenure.

Hartzell played football and baseball for the Panthers. He received his bachelor's degree in physical education and english from UNI in 1974, and his master's in educational administration in 1977. A native of Klemme, Iowa, he was a five-sport letterman at Klemme High School. He has two children -- Nate, 23, and Amanda, 21.

UNI ATHLETICS

The University of Northern Iowa strives for excellence. Panthers excel not only in the classroom but on their athletic fields. The UNI athletic department encompasses 18 intercollegiate sports, eight men's programs and 10 women's programs.

The University fields baseball, football, wrestling, basketball, cross country, track and field and golf on the men's side while supporting basketball, cross country, track and field, golf, tennis, swimming, softball, soccer and volleyball for women.

All programs are members of the top division in the NCAA, except football is Division I-AA. Football is a member of the Gateway Conference while the other programs belong to the Missouri Valley Conference, except wrestling, which is independent.

As many college athletic programs across the country fall to financial pressures, UNI finds success with its lower budget. UNI is the smallest state school but has defeated its state rivals in recent competitions including men's basketball, baseball and volleyball. It ranks 82nd in the Sports Academy Director's Cup, ahead of Iowa State and all other MVC athletic departments.

Anticipation looms as each season approaches. With fall comes win streaks; entering the 2004 season volleyball held a 71 win streak in the West Gym while football has gone undefeated in the UNI-Dome in seven seasons since 1990. Basketball and wrestling warm the winter months for Panther fans as men's basketball enters the national scene and wrestling brings top 10 programs to Cedar Falls. As spring approaches, baseball, softball and track bring the heat.

At all times champions are present. Year in and year out purple and old gold teams are at the top of conference standings. The programs have recently grown in exponential terms, as if they rise off of each others success.

During the 2003-04 season, the UNI athletic department clinched six championships: Football was co-champion of the Gateway Conference, volleyball took the MVC tournament title, men's cross country claimed the MVC championship, men's track and field took the MVC indoor title, men's basketball won the MVC tournament, advancing to the NCAA tournament while the wrestlers took their 19th consecutive West Regional title.

Academically, Panther student athlete's consistently surpass their counterparts as well. In the last four years the graduation rate of athletes has exceeded the overall student rate at UNI.

None of this would be possible without Panther supporters. Ask any coach or player and they will agree. UNI students and faculty and the Cedar Valley are an integral piece of Panther success. The UNI athletic department thanks the fans who stand for the purple and gold fight song.

FACILITIES

THE MCLEOD CENTER

"It's an investment in the University of Northern Iowa, and it's an investment in the future opportunities for all Iowans."

Clark McLeod, with his wife, Mary, provided the lead gift of $4 million to help build the new McLeod Center at the University of Northern Iowa

"Facilities such as the Gallagher-Bluedorn Performing Arts Center and the Wellness and Recreation Center have a way of transforming the campus. They become a source of pride for students and community alike. The new McLeod Center will have this same transforming effect. The addition of this arena will complete an activities complex that allows UNI to demonstrate its leadership in serving its students and its community."

Dr. Robert Koob, UNI President

"The new McLeod Center will put the finishing touch on a great sports, wellness and recreation complex. This facility, combined with the UNI-Dome and the Gallagher-Bluedorn Performing Arts Center, will contribute dramatically to the quality of life and economy of the Cedar Valley."

Dan Watters, Regional Division Head, Firststar Banks; Chair, Waterloo Development Commission

"We're not originally from the Cedar Valley, but we've found it's a great place to call home. We've been looking for a way to say 'thank you' to the local community for all the support they've shown us. We think that this project, which will benefit everyone in the Cedar Valley, is a perfect fit."

Tom and Maureen Porth, Village Inn Restaurants, Leadership Donors

"The McLeod Center will be a wonderful addition to UNI and the Cedar Valley community. It will provide an exciting, student-oriented place to support Panther athletics and allow students access to other forms of entertainment on campus as well. The word 'enthusiasm' captures the feeling among students about this project. We're thrilled to have a high-quality, multi-purpose facility where we can watch a basketball game, see a concert, participate in research, get physically fit and show our school spirit."

Dan Sterenchuk, English Major, Former President, UNI Student Government

"UNI has some of the finest student-athletes, coaches and programs of any university in the Midwest. We'll now have a facility to match our people in these programs. The McLeod Center will be one of the best of its size in the nation – an outstanding facility in which to showcase our quality student-athletes and athletic programs."

Rick Hartzell, UNI Director of Athletics

"My years on the UNI basketball squad taught me that being a part of the Panther athletic tradition is both an opportunity and an obligation... The student-athlete experience at UNI is a transforming one, complementing an outstanding academic environment... The UNI-Dome, the Wellness and Recreation Center and the Gallagher-Bluedorn Performing Arts Center represent a winning tradition – facilities that make a difference."

Bill Smith, National Chair, Arena Campaign; CEO, William Smith & Company

COMMITMENT TO FACILITIES

It is impossible to imagine the UNI campus without the UNI-Dome and the Gallagher-Bluedorn Performing Arts Center. Yet, both began merely as dreams. Today, these facilities stand as visible evidence of the dedication of alumni and friends who have helped build the facilities UNI students and programs deserve.

The new McLeod Center will:

- Provide a focal point for students, faculty, staff, alumni and the community to come together to cheer on the Panthers
- Bolster the image of the university as a premier performance center
- Ensure continued success and growth of UNI's student-athlete tradition
- Free the UNI-Dome for up to 90 additional event days per year

Benefits of the McLeod Center include:

- A facility specifically built for volleyball, wrestling and basketball
- Year-round training opportunities
- A location near the UNI-Dome and Wellness and Recreation Center to complete a state-of-the-art athletic and recreation complex
- The recruiting advantages of a first-class facility
- Seating capacity of 7,000 to accommodate sports, concerts, exhibitions and other community events
- Provide a home for a year-round slate of events, as well as freeing up the UNI-Dome for more concerts, trade shows and other community events
- Boost Panther pride
- Empower UNI student-athletes to accomplish more than they dreamed
- Providing a $15-20 million economic impact annually, doubling the annual attendance of the UNI-Dome

FACILITIES

The UNI-Dome

The facility has fixed seating for nearly 16,400 and is the current home to the Panther football, track and men's basketball teams, and is available for concerts and other major events. In 1998, the UNI-Dome became the first air-supported structure to be converted to a fixed roof.

Mark Messersmith Outdoor Track Complex

UNI's outdoor track was completed in time for the Panthers to host the 1998 Missouri Valley Conference Outdoor Track and Field Championships.

Wellness/Recreation Center

This $18.3 million facility, attached to the north side of the UNI-Dome, opened in the fall of 1997. It features the highest climbing wall in the Midwest, two pools, a running track, weight and fitness rooms, and basketball, volleyball and racquetball courts.

The West Gym

The West Gym is home to the Panthers' wrestling, women's volleyball and women's basketball teams until the McLeod Center is constructed. The facility was remodeled four years ago with a new floor, locker rooms and lower bleacher seating.

He's a NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and is Collegiate Strength Coach Certified.

ANTHONY MOLINARI
Asst. Strength and Conditioning
Coach

The UNI Strength and Conditioning program is a blend of science, technology and one-on-one attention to each athlete.

Throughout the year, UNI athletes can spend more time working on strength and conditioning than any other aspect of their game. During the off-season, athletes work on strength improvement, speed, power, agility and conditioning. The in-season program is devoted to continuation of strength gains and performance-related conditioning.

Throughout an athlete's first year on campus, baseline measures of strength, speed, power, agility, flexibility and endurance are collected. Measure of body composition and weight also are recorded. With this information, goals are set for development and maintenance. Programs are established for each player by Strength and Conditioning Coach Michael Daugherty.

DON BISHOP
Director of
Sports Medicine

Director of

Sports Medicine Donald L. Bishop, head Athletic Trainer for seven years and Director of Athletic Training Education and Assistant Professor in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation at Upper Iowa University for one year, was named at UNI in August of 2001.

Bishop has served on the College and University Student Athletic Trainers Committee since the spring of 1999 and has been a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) Board of Certification Exam.

The demands of the Missouri Valley Conference place tremendous stress on an athlete's body.

The UNI sports medicine program features top-rate facilities and the outstanding services of sports and health care professionals.

The sports medicine program focuses on injury prevention. Staff members utilize Merac strength-testing devices, provide dietary analysis, measure physiological capacity and outline programs to improve an athlete's flexibility.

Athletic trainers and physicians work together to design rehabilitation programs for injured athletes. A wide variety of facilities and equipment, not only in the Sports Medicine Lab but in the Wellness and Recreation Center, including swimming pools, Merac equipment, Stairmasters and various exercise bikes, help athletes rehabilitate injuries and minimize the loss of fitness during recuperative time.

LIFE AFTER BASKETBALL

DALE TURNER

1988-92

Teacher/Coach

Clyde C. Miller Academy

"Playing at UNI was a great life experience for me. The teammates I had and friendships I made, in addition to playing for one of college basketball's greatest coaches is something I'll cherish forever. The positive community atmosphere that Cedar Falls-Waterloo has is what college life should be about.

"Being a part of the first UNI team to advance to the NCAA tournament stands out as one of the finest accomplishments of my life, and to see the 2003-04 team make an impressive run in the MVC tournament in St. Louis made me proud to be a Panther. Good luck in the 2004-05 season and Go Panthers!"

RANDY KRAAYENBRINK

Financial Associate,

Thrivent Financial

"One of my first basketball games as a Panther was played in front of a crowd seven times the population of my hometown. An inexperienced, naïve, small town boy had hit the 'big town' of Cedar Falls and UNI. The college challenge had begun.

"I battled late night study sessions and grueling practices. I learned the value of hard work, to never give up and be positive. The education and the habits of discipline outside the classroom were priceless.

"With the help of caring professors, dedicated coaches and fun-loving teammates, my four years at UNI flew by. I played my last game in the Dome as an experienced, mature, and accomplished person. I walked off the court ready for the rest of life's challenges. Thank you, UNI."

STEVE PHYFE

1986-90

Assistant Manager,

Scheels All Sports, Inc

"UNI was a stepping stone for my life-long dream of playing professional basketball. My experience here enabled me to start a pro career which lasted 10 years. I was able to travel the world and have visited 37 countries thanks to basketball. When it was time to hang up the basketball shoes, I never forgot where my dream started - UNI. Going to Milwaukee last season to watch UNI in the "Big Dance" brought back so many memories of when I was fortunate to play in the 1990 NCAA tournament. We were part of history and I treasure all those memories and friendships that I made. Thank you UNI for helping me achieve my dreams! Go Panthers!!"

If you've spent much time in the Midwest, in particular in small rural communities, then you have an understanding of University of Northern Iowa men's basketball coach Greg McDermott pretty well. The people there are honest, trustworthy, and loyal to a fault. Hard work isn't something to be feared, it's to be worn as a badge of honor.

That's the way it was for McDermott in his hometown of Cascade, Iowa, a small town in the eastern portion of the state. With four brothers — two younger, two older — he certainly had plenty of time to hone his skills as a basketball player, as there was always a game going on.

From those pickup games around the neighborhood, to the more structured games as he moved into high school and college, he was always interested in the "why's" of basketball — the reasoning behind a certain offensive or defensive philosophy, why you had to be a certain place at a certain time on the court.

Those questions led to a career as a coach, which has spanned 15 years, including seven as a head coach before he came back to take the reins of the Panthers' program. Upon arriving in Cedar Falls prior to the 2001-02 season, McDermott had the chore of rebuilding a program that hadn't had a winning season since 1996-97 and had finished in the top half of the Missouri Valley Conference just twice in 10 years. But in just his third season, he helped guide the Panthers to not only their first MVC title ever, but just the school's second-ever trip to the NCAA Division I tournament.

UNI finished 21-10 last season, winning its first-ever MVC title with a thrilling 79-74 double-overtime win over SMS in the title game. The Panthers, which played in the NCAA tournament for just the second time ever and first time in 14 years, took eventual national runner-up Georgia Tech to the wire, dropping a 65-60 decision.

The Panthers had an eight-game winning streak snapped against the Yellow Jackets, which was the school's longest winning streak as a Division I program, and the longest for the program in 38 years. UNI set school records for three-pointers made in a season (223), and tied the school record for treys in a game (15 vs. Drake, 2/25/04). With eight letterwinners returning for the 2004-05 season, plus the addition of two recruits and three redshirts, hopes are high for another year of success in the Dome.

The fruits of last year's success were built with players, and most of them from the midwest. As any coach will tell you, the X's and O's may make the difference on a single possession, but having talented players make the difference in wins and losses.

His first recruit, center David Gruber, earned first-team All-Missouri Valley Conference honors as a senior, and left UNI as the school's career leader in field goal percentage. Matt Schneiderman, in the same class as Gruber, was a two-time MVC All-Academic pick. Ben Jacobson, the first underclassman to commit to play for McDermott, earned MVC tournament Most Outstanding Player honors in 2004. In fact, a total of 11 players have earned some sort of conference award in just three years McDermott has been at UNI's helm.

McDermott began his coaching career as an assistant from 1989-94 at the University of North Dakota. During his tenure, the Fighting Sioux made five consecutive NCAA Division II Tournament appearances, were ranked no. 1 in the final 1991 NCAA poll, earned two North Central Conference and North Central Region Championships, and compiled a 126-37 record.

Wayne State College took a chance on this up-and-coming force in the coaching ranks when it hired McDermott as head coach. His first team in 1994-95 captured just the school's second winning season in 17 years with a 14-13 record, a hint of good things to come. WSC won 116 games over six years against only 53 losses while setting single-season records for wins and appearing in numerous NCAA tournaments.

McDermott's journey to UNI ended with a one-year stint at North Dakota State in 2000-01. The Bison finished 15-11 overall and defeated three Top 25 opponents on the road.

As a prep player, the 6-8 McDermott was taller than most of the other players in his conference, and pretty much had things his way. His senior year, he was named fourth team all-state by the Des Moines Register in basketball and was named Most Valuable Player of the 1983 Dr. Pepper All-Star game played in the UNI-Dome. He also pitched and played first base for his Cascade high school team.

McDermott chose to come to UNI and play for two coaches who would profoundly influence his life, and his decision to become a coach: Jim

Berry for his first three years (he redshirted his first season), and Eldon Miller for his final two campaigns.

"I couldn't have played for two better coaches or two better people in my five years at Northern Iowa," he said. "I wouldn't have been a Panther if it weren't for Coach Berry — he got this thing off to a great start. Coach Miller came in my last two years and obviously, I learned about character from Coach Miller and how to teach the game of basketball."

McDermott's 1,033 career points currently ranks 23rd on UNI's all-time scoring chart. As a junior, he ranked 16th in the nation in field goal percentage (.587). He shot even better his senior year (.603). He led the Panthers in shooting three straight years, combining for a .595 percentage. As a junior, he ranked first in the Association of Mid-Continent Universities in field goal percentage, fifth in blocked shots, seventh in rebounding and 10th in scoring. As a senior, he was third in the league in field goal percentage and fourth in free throw percentage.

He was named second team all-conference as a junior and was a team co-captain as a senior. He also was a pre-season honorable mention all-American in 1987-88.

As a Panther, he played in 110 games, shot a career field goal percentage of .581, a career free throw percentage of .743, and averaged 4.4 rebounds and 9.4 points.

Upon graduation, McDermott played one season for the BCKZO Basketball Club in Wetzikon, Switzerland.

Though he has lived and coached in surrounding midwestern states, McDermott firmly believes the Panthers can win with a roster built primarily around Iowa high school players. Currently, there are seven players from the state of Iowa on UNI's roster.

"We're going to do everything possible to build the core of our team from the high schools in the state of Iowa," McDermott said. "I believe there is quality here. There are too many kids leaving the state to go play elsewhere. That's not to say we won't fill specific needs from the surrounding areas, but I recruited 15 Iowa players when I was in North Dakota and Nebraska. My staff and I are going to try to keep players in state and at the University of Northern Iowa. Some of the best teams throughout the history of Northern Iowa basketball have been comprised of Iowa players.

"If you look at the kids we've signed, they want to be at Northern Iowa," McDermott said. "They had other options and opportunities, but this is where they want to be. If that's the case going in, you have a lot better chance to be successful with those people, not only on the basketball floor, but in the classroom and community."

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT

"He was just a super young guy who got along with everyone. He was very knowledgeable about the game and he had a great rapport with his teammates and boosters."

—Jim Berry

Former University of Northern Iowa Head Coach

"Greg had great leadership qualities in high school. The kids really rallied around him. He was a good competitor, was tenacious and tough-minded. Those are all qualities that transfer well into the coaching field. I would say he always had the qualities to become a coach."

—Al Marshall

Former Cascade (IA) High School Head Coach

"It didn't take me long to figure out what he wanted to do. I knew he would be a coach. He had a very good understanding of what was going on, as good as anyone I had ever worked with. He was not blessed with a lot of speed, but was very sound fundamentally. He's gone out in the profession and flat out gotten it done. He has won consistently. He was a tough, great competitor, one of those guys that bleeds purple and gold. He loves (UNI). It makes me feel good that one of my guys comes back. He's Coach (Jim) Berry's guy, too. He's the one that got him here."

—Eldon Miller

Former University of Northern Iowa Head Coach

"He knows his basketball, and you just have a lot of confidence in him. When he steps on the court, you know he's usually the better coach out there...He gave me the confidence that I could run the team as a freshman and still be a scorer as well. I think he's one of the best coaches out there. If anybody can turn a program around, he'd be a good one to do it."

—Ben Nemmers

Former Cedar Falls (IA) High School Player, North Dakota State Player

"He asked a lot of his players, he really did. But the thing is, he was a coach and a teacher, and if you had a problem in the classroom or with a girlfriend, then he was a friend, too. Once you're in his program, you're one of his kids. He's not only going to help UNI and the basketball program, but he's going to help the community. He could have run for mayor (Wayne, NE)."

—Curt Woodin

Former Waverly-Shell Rock High School Player, Former Wayne State Player

"He brings a lot of enthusiasm and a great attitude to the team. He's a good confidence builder. And he knows his X's and O's."

—Aaron Middendorf

Former University of Northern Iowa Player

"Pay him more, give him more perks, chain him to the Bison Sports Arena. Whatever. Just keep him in Fargo and out of Cedar Falls, Iowa. This guy is a winner and he is the coach who can finally turn (North Dakota State University) men's basketball into a sustained winner...Hiring McDermott would be a no-lose situation for (UNI) AD Rick Hartzell."

—Mike McFeely

The Forum

"I chose UNI because of the great sense of family that this team and coaching staff gave me. I am excited to play for Coach McDermott. He is the type of coach that treats his players well and at the same time pushes them in a way to reach their full potential."

—Jon Godfred

University of Northern Iowa Senior

Q&A WITH GREG MCDERMOTT

When you were hired here, you said it was a dream come true, and that all your dreams would come true when the team won a Missouri Valley championship. Last year's team accomplished that. What is your next "Dream" for UNI basketball?

The goal of our program, now that we've reached the NCAA tournament, is to stay at a high level. We want to put ourselves in position where we can compete for postseason play each year. To accomplish this, you have to compete for an MVC championship. If we do that, postseason play will take care of itself.

How much of an impact will be felt on this year's team after losing David Gruber and Matt Schneiderman inside?

As much as David and Matt meant to our program on the floor, they may have been even more valuable off the floor. The example they set, the attitude and work ethic that they approached everything with, was phenomenal. The challenge will be to find the leadership in our current team to carry on some of the traits that David and Matt were so good at.

The experience of this year's team is in the backcourt. Will you run more and try to play an up-tempo game?

We will always try to run. I think that's generally how kids like to play, and it's the style I would prefer to coach. But, we'll only run and take advantage of good scoring opportunities and won't just run to run. Along with that, scoring on the interior is very important and will always be a focus for us. It gets you to the free throw line and hopefully gets the other team in some foul difficulty. It also opens up the outside game, so there has to be a balance.

In each of your three years, the team has set the school record for threes attempted and made. Can we expect more of the game?

Much like an effective inside game opens up the perimeter game, if you can make outside shots it opens up things inside. We've built our team on the ability to shoot the ball from the three-point line, which is something that we will always do.

What constitutes a good shot in your offense?

We spend a lot of time practicing game shots, helping our players understand what a good shot is for them. We don't want any indecision on game night, so we work with them to find what is and isn't a good shot. It's different for everyone. But, once we've established what a good shot is, we don't look back. If our guys are open and they're comfortable with it, we want them to take the shot.

Talk about this year's schedule. How do you approach scheduling?

You want to have a balance in your home and road games. I also always want to have a non-conference schedule that is going to prepare us for what we'll face in the Missouri Valley Conference. You have to have the ability to not only take care of your home court, but you need to be prepared to go on the road and win. In our league, we play in some great arenas with tough environments. Certainly this year's schedule will do that for us.

Last year's team broke through and won an MVC championship. Now, your team is no longer the underdog, but one of the favorites. Does that change your approach to the season?

As a coach, you are always concerned with how your players will react to success the first time around. We have been extremely pleased with how our players have handled the success of last year. They are motivated to try and take this program another step. That's encouraging to see. But overall, our approach won't change. Our guys have learned not to get too high after wins, and not get too down after losses. Hopefully what last year taught us is that if we go about things the right way, the results will take care of themselves.

Describe your basketball philosophy.

The fundamental part of basketball is so important to us. We attempt to make fewer mistakes, and probably take fewer chances, than other teams. We rely on team execution on both ends of the floor more so than individual playmaking. It's old school basketball. I'm blessed with a coaching staff that are great teachers, and players that are very willing to learn.

Who have been the key people to influence your basketball philosophy?

I have been fortunate to have my path cross with many great coaches in my life. Jerry Roling, Bob Davidshofer, Larry Takes and Al Marshal at Cascade High School. Jim Berry and Eldon Miller, as well as several assistant coaches at UNI, had a tremendous impact on my life. I learned so much from each of them it's difficult to summarize how my philosophy was shaped. They did, however, hold one common thread: They cared deeply about the young people they coached, a trait that's very important to me and my coaching staff.

What was the NCAA tournament experience like for you last season?

There is no feeling greater than winning a championship. That feeling we had in the locker room was very gratifying. But what made last year even more special, was that we were fortunate to play in Milwaukee and have so many of our fans go with us and share in that experience. We were thrilled to have the season end the way it did.

ASSISTANT COACH BEN JACOBSON

North Dakota '94 • Fourth Year at UNI

Ben Jacobson followed head coach Greg McDermott to UNI after serving as an assistant under McDermott one season at North Dakota State. His responsibilities there included serving as recruiting and academic coordinator, in addition to summer camp director. His primary responsibilities with the Panthers include recruiting and camps.

Jacobson has a long history in the North Central Conference, having played at North Dakota from 1989-93. He was a four-year letterman for the Sioux, a two-year starter, and he ended his career as the school's all-time assist leader. UND made two Elite Eight appearances and four regional appearances, along with winning two conference championships, during his career. He was team captain in 1991-92 and 1992-93, was named to the NCC's all-Academic Team in 1993, and was a player representative to UND's Letter-winner's Association from 1991-93. McDermott was an assistant at UND throughout Jacobson's career.

A native of Mayville, ND, he graduated from Mayville-Portland High School in 1989 as Valedictorian. He received his degree in Physical Education from North Dakota in 1994.

He was a student assistant coach at UND from 1993-94. From 1994-96, he was a graduate assistant coach at North Dakota and became a full-time assistant from 1996-2000, prior to spending the 2000-01 season as an assistant at North Dakota State.

"My relationship with Ben dates back to 1989 when I was an assistant at North Dakota," McDermott said. "He's as well-rounded as anyone I've worked with. The fact he turned down an opportunity to be head coach at North Dakota State proves his commitment to not only myself, but the UNI program."

His wife's name is Dawn, and the couple has a one-year-old son, Hunter.

ASSISTANT COACH JEFF RUTTER

Winona State '88 • Second Year at UNI

Former University of Wisconsin-Parkside head coach Jeff Rutter is in his second year as an assistant coach for the Panthers.

Rutter was head coach with the UWP Rangers from 1996 until being appointed at UNI. They finished 15-13 overall in his final season, their first winning record since the 1987-88 season when they recorded an 18-12 mark. The school was an NAIA affiliate through 1994, when it made the move to NCAA Division II.

In his rookie year as head coach in 1996-97, Rutter's team stunned the no. 1 team in the country, the University of Indianapolis, 63-45. In his second season, the team posted its first back-to-back double-digit win seasons in 10 years.

In 2001-02, UWP was nationally ranked (no. 16) for the first time since the school joined the Division II ranks. He completed his career there with a 73-114 mark.

Rutter developed the Adopt-a-Ranger program and the Junior Rangers and built a strong connection with schools in the Racine-Kenosha area. His teams posted some of the highest grade point averages in the school's basketball 35-year history. He assisted in developing corporate sponsorship programs and was instrumental in the development of the Ranger Athletic Club and the men's basketball Dunk Club.

He also has taught at various levels, including serving as a clinical associate professor from 1996-2003 at UWP, a lecturer at North Dakota State from 1990-95 and teaching at the elementary, junior and senior high school levels.

Rutter lettered in basketball and football at Nathan Hale High School in West Allis, Wis. He played college basketball at both Wisconsin-Waukesha and Winona State, from where he earned his bachelor's degree in Physical Education in 1988. He received his master's in Physical Education from North Dakota State in 1992.

He served one year as an assistant at Stetson University in 1995-96 and from 1990-95 at North Dakota State, the first two as a graduate assistant. NDSU posted a 43-17 mark and made two NCAA tournament appearances in his final two seasons there. The Bison advanced to the "Sweet 16" with a 21-9 mark in 1993-94 before earning their first North Central Conference championship in 14 years with a 22-8 record in 1994-95.

Rutter was born Jan. 28, 1965, in West Allis. He and his wife, Shari, have an 11-year-old son, A.J.

"I've known Jeff for 15 years and have always been impressed with his organization and ability to communicate with young people," said UNI head coach Greg McDermott. "He did a remarkable job of building and maintaining the UW-Parkside program. His wealth of experience has already impacted our program."

ASSISTANT COACH RON SMITH

Illinois State '76 • Seventh Year at UNI

Ron Smith joined former Head Coach Sam Weaver's staff six seasons ago and was retained by current head coach Greg McDermott.

"The decision to retain Ron is the single best thing I've done since I've been (at UNI)", McDermott said. "He's been a tremendous resource for me. His experience in the Missouri Valley Conference has been a great help to our entire coaching staff. He's a perfect fit."

Prior to being appointed at UNI, Smith spent four years as Athletic Director and head basketball coach for Alton Community Unit School District. The district was comprised of 19 schools and about 8,000 students. His responsibilities included coordinating all athletic activities for 20 different sports and over 100 teams. Prior to his arrival in Alton, the varsity basketball teams had only one winning season in the previous eight. Smith's last team recorded its third consecutive winning record, setting a school mark for most wins in three consecutive years (63). The 1997 team advanced to the state tournament for the first time in 42 years, and only the third time in school history. His overall record at Alton was 74-40.

Prior to taking the Alton position, Smith spent nine years as an assistant at Southern Illinois and was part of a staff which turned one of the worst programs in the Missouri Valley Conference into one of the best programs. His last six years in Carbondale were highlighted by six consecutive post-season tournament appearances and four Valley titles.

The Benton, Ill., native spent four years as an assistant basketball coach at Benton High School before accepting the SIU position, which included acting as academic advisor.

After graduating from Benton in 1972, Smith spent two years at Rend Lake College before transferring to Illinois State, from where he graduated in 1976. He earned his master's in Guidance and Educational Psychology from SIU in 1983. He joined Rich Herrin's staff at Benton in 1981 after serving as head coach and athletic director at Coulterville High School for five years. While at Benton, the teams were 103-22 overall and Smith's junior varsity teams posted an overall 43-6 record.

Smith has served as a sponsor for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes chapters at SIU, Alton and UNI. He was selected as an assistant coach for the 1998 Illinois Basketball Coaches Association (IBCA) Class AA South All-Star Game, and received several other honors in 1997, including IBCA District 19 Coach of the Year, Telegraph Newspaper Coach of the Year, Belleville News Democrat Coach of the Year and in 1996, received his first Telegraph Newspaper Coach of the Year honor.

He and his wife, Regina, have three children — Tim, married to Jamie; Matt, married to Ellie; and Brooke, a sophomore at UNI. They also have a grandson, Isaiah, son of Tim and Jamie.

04-05 OUTLOOK

04-05 OUTLOOK

For college basketball fans, the middle of October is nearly as sacred of a time as the middle of March, for entirely different reasons – the first because practice starts, and the second because of the NCAA tournament.

While every college team experiences the former each season, only 65 of the more than 325 Division I teams experiences the latter. And for the University of Northern Iowa in the 2003-04 season, it was one of those teams. A magical season that produced the team's longest winning streak in 38 years; three wins over top 25 teams; the largest UNI-Dome crowd to ever watch a Missouri Valley Conference game; and a three-day run through the Missouri Valley Conference tournament, highlighted by the school's first-ever MVC championship.

With all the success that last year's team attained, if it's possible, hopes are higher in Cedar Falls this year, and with good reason. UNI returns the nucleus from last year's team that finished 21-10, 12-6 in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Panthers return three starters and all its key bench personnel from last year's squad. It will aim for its second straight NCAA tournament bid as they represented the Valley in the 2004 NCAA tournament, falling to eventual national runner-up Georgia Tech in the first round. That NCAA bid was the first-ever for the Panthers as an MVC member, and just the school's second-ever postseason appearance since joining the Division I ranks in 1980.

For fourth-year head coach Greg McDermott, the goal remains the same: To make the late-season games matter to the point where postseason play can take care of itself.

"I'll be disappointed if we're not playing meaningful games in February. That means competing for a Missouri Valley Conference championship," said McDermott, who is 46-42 during his first three years at UNI. "It was hard work to get where we did last year, and to have that kind of success again, we have to work even harder."

There is plenty of firepower returning, along with a host of talented newcomers, that hope to help UNI back to where it found itself at the end of last season. Last year's team, which connected on a school-record 223 three-pointers, returns most of the perimeter success from that team. The three-guard starting rotation of Ben Jacobson, Erik Crawford and Brooks McKowen are all back for another year in the purple and gold. In addition, 2003-04 sixth-man Chris Foster, who suffered a knee injury late in the year, is expected to be back on the floor when the season opens in November. John Little and Pete Schmit, who each made important contributions to the team off the bench, also return.

UNI loses most of its inside attack from last year, in the persons of 2003-04 departed seniors David Gruber and Matt Schneiderman. Gruber, a first-team All-MVC pick, averaged 12.1 points and 6.9

rebounds, while Schneiderman averaged 11.0 points and 6.4 boards. Gruber shot 58.6 percent from the floor last year, and ended his career as the Panthers' career leader in field goal percentage. No matter the personnel, there will be a target on the backs of the Panthers as defending MVC champions. McDermott says that won't change how his team prepares.

"We will approach the season the same this year as we did last year," said McDermott. "I'm looking forward to the higher expectations. We've taught our guys to keep an even keel, just go about your business, work hard, and let the results take care of themselves. Last year that worked for us, and we're confident in our talent and ability to make it work again this year."

Here is a position-by-position breakdown of the 2004-05 Panthers.

GUARDS

With everyone returning, this is a definite strength for UNI. It's a group with experience, versatility, and depth – and each player has the ability to shoot the three point shot. All three starters from a year ago (the Panthers used a three-guard rotation throughout the year) return, plus all three reserve players that saw significant time in the rotation.

"We return the entire backcourt, and each one of those players saw not only significant minutes, but important minutes for us," said McDermott. "We are very fortunate to have a wealth of experience among our guards. You need good guard play to be successful. The biggest challenge, and it's really a good one to have, is we have so much experience back it may be tough to rotate them all in and get them minutes."

Junior Ben Jacobson leads the returners, as he averaged a team-best 14.0 points per game in 2003-04. He led the team in minutes played (34.0), field goals made and attempted (153-360), three point percentage (.392) and steals (33), and was second in assists (73), and treys attempted and made (51-130). The 6-3 guard from Sioux City, who was named to the MVC Most Improved team, adjusted well as the season went along as teams made him a focal point of their defensive plans. That was never more evident than in the championship game of the MVC tournament, when he scored 26 points and hit a career-high five three pointers – several of them late in the game when everyone in the building knew he was going to get the ball, and he still was able to score. He was named the tournament's Most Outstanding Player for his efforts.

"One of the reasons we recruited Ben was that he was not afraid to take the big shot," McDermott said. "He always wants the ball and can score in many different ways. What separates him, though, is his work ethic. He works so hard on his shot and his game, and that hard work paid off late in the season when he came through with big plays for us."

Junior Erik Crawford, perhaps the Panthers most versatile player, returns at one wing position after having a huge impact on the program a year ago. That value, particularly on the defensive end of the court, was not lost on McDermott.

"I wouldn't trade Erik for anyone defensively," he said. "He isn't flashy, he just gets the job done. He was a rock for us last year, and gave us more offense than I initially thought he would. He's a very capable shooter and has been working on being able to do more off the dribble."

"I'd say this – there's no way we would have gotten to where we were last year without Erik on our team."

The 6-3, 225 pound Crawford, who was named to the MVC All-Newcomer team in 2003-04, averaged 10.4 points, 5.2 rebounds and tied for a team-best 2.8 assists per game. He scored a career-high 24 points twice, against Iowa and Wichita State, and was second on the Panthers in free throw shooting, hitting better than 83 percent of his charity tosses.

At the point, Brooks McKowen started 25 games a year ago as a true freshman. Like both Jacobson and Crawford, he earned MVC post-season accolades, as he was named to the MVC All-Freshman team after averaging 7.5 points and 2.8

assists per game. He scored a career-high 24 points — including 6-of-7 from three-point range — against #20 Creighton Jan. 14, which might be what some expected the Iowa high school career scoring leader to do every night. But McKowen adjusted to his new role as the floor general well as the season went along.

"Brooks has the absolute right mentality to be a point guard," McDermott said. "He's fearless. He takes command. He had all these expectations of being this great scorer coming out of high school, but he dealt very well with the role we asked him to play. Brooks can score, but he really developed into the type of point guard we needed as the season went on."

So obviously with those three players returning, most teams would be very comfortable with where their backcourt stood. But when UNI's starters need a rest, or the team needs a spark, McDermott has plenty of options to turn to.

The loss of fifth-year senior Chris Foster to a knee injury late last season was a tough blow to take, but after offseason surgery, Foster is already doing individual workouts and is scheduled to be on the floor when practice opens in mid-October. A true shooting guard, Foster has played the point during most of his career at UNI, and his versatility was invaluable last year as he could spell any of the three starters. Foster, who ranks 10th in UNI history with 118 career three-pointers, averaged 8.2 points per game and gave the team a different dimension with his ability to drive the ball into the lane and either score or pass for an open shot.

"Chris is going to be one of our leaders this year," McDermott said. "His rehab has gone well, much better than expected, so we should have him fully healthy when the season starts. It was a shame that he got hurt when he did and couldn't be on the floor last year when we made our NCAA run. He wants to play on that stage this year. For his sake, I hope we can make that happen."

Senior Pete Schmit and junior John Little also played important roles off the bench for UNI a year ago. Schmit started three games at point, and provided key minutes late in the season — particularly the MVC tournament — after Foster went down. Little was the team's defensive stopper off the bench, normally being assigned to the opposing team's top perimeter threat.

"Pete saved us a year ago," McDermott said. "There were games when he didn't play, but, when he was called upon he took advantage of the opportunity. He is such a leader and so mentally tough."

"I appreciate John's effort as much as anyone. He started as a freshman and accepted his new role last year very well. He's improved his offensive game, and the bottom line with him is, he just wants to win."

There are two newcomers to the backcourt that could figure into the mix, after redshirting a year ago. Point guard Jared Josten, who McDermott calls "the fastest player with the ball I've ever coached", continues to develop. After being a scoring point guard in high school, Josten's adjustment is to learn to play in UNI's more structured system. Adam Viet, a 6-3 shooting guard from Ackley, is the best pure shooter in the program according to McDermott, and continues to develop the other areas in his game. Dylan Grimsley, a native of Sioux City who transferred in from UNC Wilmington right before the start of school in August, will redshirt this season.

FORWARDS

Sophomore Grant Stout is the heir-apparent to one front-court spot, after the graduation of Matt Schneiderman and David Gruber. Stout, who averaged slightly less than 12 minutes per game as a true freshman, averaged 2.9 points and 3.3 rebounds per game, and led the team with 17 blocked shots. With increased minutes should come increased production.

"Grant was very productive for us in a backup role last year. We need him to be an effective scorer and dominant rebounder this season," McDermott said. "I think he can do that for us. He's so talented and has worked to get stronger. He's a different type of post player than either David or Matt, in that he has a good turnaround shot and is very active and athletic around the rim. As his strength improves, I really expect him to be a factor in this league."

After Stout, three newcomers add to the frontcourt depth. Eric Coleman, a 6-6 bruiser from St. Paul, Minnesota, and Vince Polakovic, a 6-8 wing from Slovakia, enter the program as true freshmen. Sophomore Tyler Griffin, a 6-6 wing from Greene, Iowa, will be eligible to play for the Panthers in mid-December after transferring in from Minnesota State last winter.

Coleman averaged 13 points, 11 rebounds and three assists for Tartan High School, and was one of five finalists for Minnesota's "Mr. Basketball" award. McDermott says that Coleman can be a special player as he continues to develop.

"I am very excited about Eric's future with us," McDermott said. "He brings an athletic presence to us that we haven't had in the past. He'll make an impact as a defender, rebounder and shot blocker right away."

Polakovic, who played his high school ball in Germany, averaged a whopping 30.1 points per game as a senior, and was also a member of the Slovakian Youth National team. A very athletic player, he has the ability to score in several different ways.

"Vince is a very capable scorer," said McDermott. "He can take people off the dribble, has a good mid-range game and can hit the three-point shot, so he gives us versatility."

Griffin is someone who, according to McDermott, could see situational time as a three-point threat. "Tyler's work ethic is phenomenal," McDermott said. "His ability to shoot the three-point shot fits our system well."

Fifth-year senior Jon Godfread, now in his fourth year with UNI after spending one season at Utah, saw limited action the past three seasons, playing behind Gruber. But with Gruber now playing professionally in Australia, the 6-10, 260 pound Godfread has the opportunity to step in and make an impact.

"The time is now for Jon," McDermott said. "He's shown flashes of great play in the past, but has been somewhat inconsistent. We need him to be a force on the block and make power-type baskets. With David gone, there is a spot open and I know Jon wants that spot."

Atila Santos, another 6-10 player, redshirted a year ago and continues to get stronger and more aggressive, McDermott said. A player with great athletic ability, he has improved his individual game over the past year and needs to continue to work on consistency.

SCHEDULE

The schedule won't be easy for the Panthers as they face Cincinnati, Iowa State and Iowa in a span of two weeks early in the non-conference season. UNI is also involved in the Las Vegas Holiday Invitational, facing the Bearcats, Longwood, Valparaiso and Northwestern State in that tournament. The Panthers, who are the only team to win two straight road games in the first two years of the Bracker Buster Saturday event, will host a home game in the BBS' third year in February.

"We want to put together a schedule that challenges us, and prepares us for Missouri Valley Conference play," said McDermott. "We attempt to strike a balance between road and home games, and we also want to play games against top-flight teams. I think we've put together a schedule that accomplishes those goals."

UNI also starts multiple year series with Loyola University Chicago, as well as the University of Missouri-Kansas City.

03-04 SEASON REVIEW

Hopes certainly were high for the 2003-04 University of Northern Iowa men's basketball team. After all, five starters returned from the previous year's team that had finished the previous season strong, and a talented group of newcomers were expected to work into the mix.

But the optimism was also tempered by the fact that the Panthers would have to move into the upper-echelon of the rugged Missouri Valley Conference, which had proven itself to be among the nation's top mid-major conferences in recent seasons. Multiple teams had advanced to the NCAA tournament out of the MVC the previous six straight years, with many other teams being invited to the NIT.

The Panthers had never been invited to either of the postseason parties since joining the MVC in 1992.

That was about to change. And when all was said and done, the 2003-04 University of Northern Iowa basketball team gave the Cedar Valley a ride it won't soon forget.

UNI got an early start to the season by making a 10-day, six-game trip in August to Australia. All the returning players, plus 2002-

03 redshirts Adam Salow and Erik Crawford, were allowed to participate in the trip, which saw UNI post a 4-2 record against a variety of competition.

The regular season began inauspiciously, however. After opening with an 83-59 win over Chicago State, the Panthers dropped three of their next four games. Butler, an NCAA Sweet 16 team from the previous season, hit two three-pointers in the final 10 seconds – including one at the horn – to edge the Panthers, 56-54. UNI then fell in a close game at Iowa State, before rebounding to defeat Louisiana Tech, 75-72. Matt Schneiderman provided heroics of his own against the Bulldogs, nailing a trey from the left wing as the buzzer sounded to give UNI the win.

After a home loss to Furman, UNI began to put things together. Undefeated and 24th-ranked Iowa came to the UNI-Dome, and for the second time in three years, the Panthers defeated the Hawkeyes. Crawford scored 24 points, including hitting a pair of late key three-pointers, to help propel UNI to the win. Crawford also held Iowa's Pierre Pierce to just one point after halftime.

The win over Iowa propelled the Panthers to a five-game winning streak, including posting a 64-61 win at Illinois State on Dec. 20 in the Missouri Valley Conference opener for both teams. After a pair of tough road losses, UNI returned home and went on a four-game winning streak, including topping undefeated and 20th-ranked Creighton, 82-73. Freshman point guard Brooks McKowen led the way for UNI against the Bluejays, scoring a career-high 24 points and nailing 6-of-7 from three-point range.

After a home win against Bradley Jan. 24, UNI suffered its longest losing streak of the season, three games – home to Illinois State and at Southern Illinois and Creighton. Coming into early February, the Panthers found themselves 11-8 overall, 6-5 in MVC play.

But that's when it all started to come together. UNI would go on to win 10 of its next 11 games, including putting together an eight-game winning streak. That streak was the team's longest ever as a Division I program, and the school's longest winning streak in 38 years. Included in that eight-game streak were tough road wins at UW-Green Bay (82-75), Drake (84-79, ot) and Indiana State (48-47). Senior Matt Schneiderman scored 28 points against Drake, in a game that saw UNI tie a school record with 15 three-pointers.

The injury bug, which had not affected the Panthers much during the season, began to rear its ugly head late in the year. Senior center David Gruber suffered a broken bone in his left (non-shooting) wrist against UWGB. But ever the warrior, Gruber did not miss a game – he played the final seven contests of the season with a soft brace on his left hand.

The day prior to the biggest home game in recent memory, against #16 Southern Illinois who was going for an undefeated MVC season, sixth-man Chris Foster suffered a knee injury in practice and was lost for the remainder of the year. But the Panthers would not let that stop them, as the next night, they stopped the Salukis cold, 68-54 in front of 7,823 fans at the UNI-Dome – the largest crowd ever to witness an MVC game.

The Missouri Valley Conference tournament was next. UNI, which finished 12-6 in the Missouri Valley Conference – its most wins ever in MVC play – earned the #2 seed by virtue of a tie-breaker. The Panthers topped Illinois State, 68-54, in the first round, and came from behind to defeat #3 seed Wichita State, 63-56, in the semifinals. That set up the championship game against fifth-seeded SMS, and in a game none will soon forget, UNI posted a 79-74 double-overtime win to earn its first-ever MVC championship and a trip to the NCAA tournament. Tournament Most Outstanding Player Ben Jacobson scored 26 points and hit five treys against the Bears in the championship game.

UNI, which received a #14 seed in the St. Louis Regional, was sent to Milwaukee, Wis., to face third-seeded Georgia Tech from the ACC. The Yellow Jackets jumped out to a 17-point lead in the first half, but UNI battled back, and eventually took the lead themselves, 48-47, on a McKowen three-pointer midway through the second half. The game stayed close the rest of the way, but eventually Georgia Tech advanced with a 65-60 victory. UNI's season ended at 21-10 overall.

Individually, Gruber was named first-team All-MVC after averaging 12.1 points and 6.9 rebounds per game. Jacobson earned honorable mention All-MVC honors after leading the team in scoring at 14.0 points per game, and he was also named to the MVC Most Improved team. Crawford, one of the league's top individual perimeter defenders, earned All-MVC Newcomer honors after averaging 10.4 points, 5.2 rebounds and 2.8 assists per game. And McKowen was an MVC All-Freshman pick after starting 25 games at point guard and averaging 7.5 points and 2.8 assists per contest. Schneiderman was a first-team All-MVC academic pick for the second straight year.

NINE MISSOURI VALLEY CONFERENCE SCHOOLS WILL PARTICIPATE IN THE THIRD ANNUAL

A total of 64 teams -- representing 13 collegiate athletic conferences-- will compete in the one-day event, with the entire BRACKET BUSTER SATURDAY series slate of matchups to be announced in early February. Creighton, Drake, Evansville, UNI and SMS will serve as host schools, while Bradley, Illinois State, Southern Illinois and Wichita State will play on the road.

Of the 32 games, a total of 11 will be televised, with six contests on ESPN or ESPN2. An additional five games will be aired on a regional basis, with ESPN Plus branding, on over-the-air stations or cable systems in the cities of the competing schools. Please consult your local listings for the start times.

Since the event's inception in 2003, the Missouri Valley Conference has posted a two-year record of 10-4, including a 4-0 mark in 2003 and a 6-4 slate in 2004. HISTORY

ALL TIME COACHES

CHARLES PELL (1903-06)

Though UNI's basketball history dates back to 1900, partial records exist only before 1905. Charles Pell was the first coach to lead a team for more than one season when he compiled an 11-12 mark between 1903-06.

R.F. SEYMOUR (1906-09)

R.F. Seymour's three-season record was 14-15, with his best mark coming in his first campaign when he finished at 5-4. One of the highlights was a 53-27 win over in-state rival Drake in 1907-08.

Former athletic director and head basketball coach L.L. Mendenhall, a member of UNI's Hall of Fame, still holds the record for best percentage when he compiled a 27-7 record (.794) from 1921-24.

His best season was 1922-23, when his team finished 10-1 overall. The school joined the Iowa Conference during his tenure, in 1923.

ARTHUR D. DICKINSON (1924-32, 1933-37)

Another UNI Hall of Famer, Dickinson is perhaps best known as a track coach and for the still-running Dickinson Relays held at UNI's UNI-Dome.

O.M. "HON" NORDLY (1937-43, 1945-54)

With a tenure interrupted by World War II, Nordly compiled a 166-127 record and won five conference titles, the first conference crowns earned in school history. His teams also beat Iowa State for the first time, defeating the Cyclones 38-29 in 1938-39. He's a member of UNI's Hall of Fame.

JAMES WITHAM (1956-61)

Former athletic director and UNI Hall of Famer James Witham won 63 games and lost 49. His last two seasons, he compiled records of 15-8 and 16-5, helping to set the stage for UNI's approaching glory years.

NORM STEWART (1961-67)

Former Missouri head coach and UNI Hall of Famer Norm Stewart compiled a 97-42 record, won two conference titles and took the Panthers to two NCAA Tournaments. The team finished 23-4 in 1963-64, a tied record that still stands for games won in a season. His teams beat Iowa State twice — 59-54 in 1963-64 and 54-50 in 1964-65.

ZEKE HOGELAND (1967-73)

Hogeland compiled a 70-74 record, with three straight winning seasons before falling to 6-20 in 1970-71, 10-13 in 1971-72 and 11-13 in 1972-73.

JAMES BERRY (1973-86)

Jim Berry still holds the mark for having coached the most games in Panther basketball history at 354 after compiling a 144-210 record. His tenure is best known for taking UNI into the NCAA Division I ranks in 1980. He catapulted the Panthers into the Division II playoffs in 1978-79, ending with an 18-11 record, and the team just missed a NIT berth in 1983-84 when it finished 18-10 overall, the same year UNI defeated Wisconsin and Kansas State.

ELDON MILLER (1986-98)

Former Ohio State head coach Eldon Miller compiled a 164-178 mark with the Panthers. He led the Panthers to their first NCAA Division I tournament in 1990, the same year they defeated Iowa in the UNI-Dome before a state-record crowd of more than 22,000. The Panthers joined the Missouri Valley Conference during his tenure. He was named the Valley's Coach of the Year in 1997.

SAM WEAVER (1998-2001)

Sam Weaver has the unflattering position of having one of the lowest wins-losses record as a UNI coach, but what isn't obvious from the record is that his tenure was plagued by injuries to key players and defections. He resigned a year early and now is an assistant at Mississippi State.
